OLD CAMPBELL COUNTY COURTHOUSE
Campbellton, Fulton County, Georgia

Owner: Old Campbell County now merged with Fulton.

Date of Erection: Approximately 1828.

Present Condition: Dismantled 1914 by Mr. Robert Cook and materials moved to his farm to be converted into barns.

Number of Stories: Two.

Materials of Construction: Foundation brick, exterior walls brick.

Other Existing Records: Photograph made from photograph in possession of Dr. J.T. Henley, College Park, Georgia, Article in Campbell News, September 4, 1914. Article in Atlanta Journal June 21, 1931, "Memories of Old Campbellton", by Winifred Lee Moore.

Additional Data: The first grand jury convened April 20, 1829 under charge of Judge Colquitt of the Superior Court.
Modeled after court house of DeKalb County. The survivors of the twenty first Georgia Regiment met July 1865 in this Court house to recount their experiences and this was the beginning of the great soldiers' reunions. In 1870 the county seat was moved to Fairburn. For two decades the court house stood unoccupied.
